

Dear friends.

As announced in the last edition of this letter, I am extremely proud to share that we have launched the Swabhiman Jal program to facilitate the shift to clean drinking water in remote areas of the state.

Today, residents in and around Sursura (Ajmer) and Banera (Bhilwara) have access to safe water at the tap of a smart card issued to them at the centre. The centre is open 24x7.

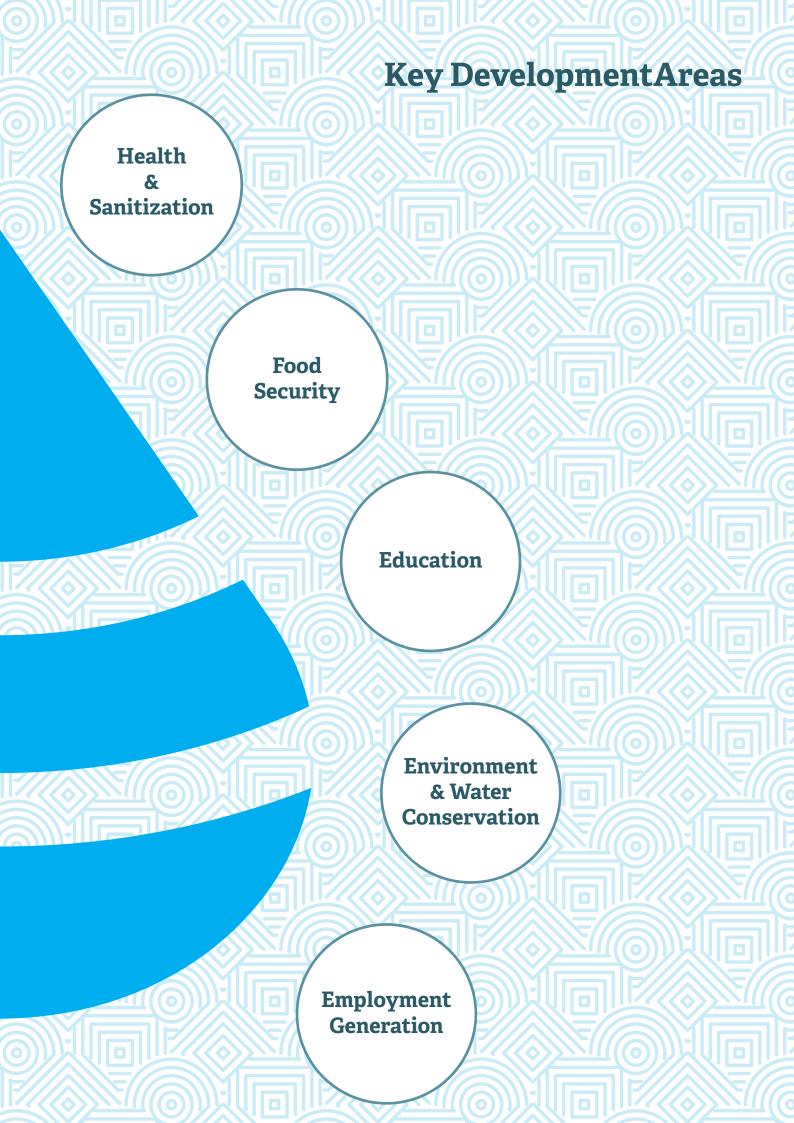

At the same time, Jaipur too has a Swabhiman Bhoj centre now. Ever since we begun the Swabhiman Bhoj program, we have been striving to make our mark in the heart of Rajasthan and the beautiful city of Jaipur. It is no surprise that ever since the inaugural, Swabhiman Bhoj in Jaipur is feeding people in huge numbers every day and people have welcomed the initiative with open arms.

This has got me closer to achieving my ambition of gradually strengthening Rajasthan's infrastructure. Today, Ajmer is the first city to have access to safe water, nutritious food, and free digital education.

The foundation has been increasing its efforts to improve the overall quality of life of the people in the region in a meticulous and organized manner. My aim is to provide education, access to food, and healthcare to those living in the extremities right now.

I request you to support us and our work through social media and word of mouth. This will help us reach more beneficiaries and supporters.

Inaugurating the water ATM project in Sursura, Kishangarh in Ajmer, RTDC's chairman stated that use of clean drinking water promotes good health. This statement not only validated the vision and work of the foundation, but also encouraged the local residents of the area to start using clean water.

Cow Cuddling – the foundation's way of showing animal love

Under the leadership of Ms. Indu Mehta, Head of Operations for Jawahar Foundation, Shri Tejaji Vikas Samiti organised a Gau Poojan followed by a cow cuddling event wherein people from the foundation hugged the cows at the cowshed. Hugging or cuddling with cows has been scientifically proven to help alleviate stress and promotes the build up of happy hormones which leaves a person feeling energised and much calmer. The foundation's executives want to encourage people to become open to caring for all living beings.
